

DONNA KISS VERSUS SPIRIT

If someone had told Donna that she would one day be making a career change midway through her life, she would not have believed them. As a bookkeeper, Donna was immersed in a world of logic, balance and practicality. She was happy with her own belief system, and really wasn't seeking for the 'Spiritual', for enlightenment or any 'new age' revelations. However, when her friends started attending a circle, she was just making sure they had not joined some kind of religious cult. What was she to think, when they said they were sitting in the dark and learning to contact people who had died? So, Donna attended one of these circles and sat in the dark in a room in a modest apartment that they called the Gateway Spiritualist Church.

On the first night, Donna unexpectedly began to get 'information': visions, messages, symbols and even music! To everyone's astonishment as well as her own, she went around the whole circle and gave everyone a message. Donna had to find out more, so she signed on to attend circles once a week for three months. What could it hurt? That was in 1988, and Donna hasn't looked back.

It was fascinating to work towards contact with Spirit. The more Donna worked at it the more she needed to know. After about five years, Spirit asked Donna to work for them full time. She said no for personal reasons. It was then that Spirit started changing her life so the path could be opened to doing mediumship full time. When she got the chance to go to the Arthur Findlay College, what an eye opener that was! She came back to Calgary ready to change her life and work for Spirit.

But Spirit wasn't finished with her just yet. They came and said that they wanted her to teach. Again, she said no and again they changed her life. Spirit must have known something that Donna didn't know. She discovered that she just loved teaching! The programs that she developed were based on whatever the Spiritualist churches needed. In response to the keen interest in mediumship Donna developed Mediumship 101, a course that provided an introduction to mediumship and Discover Your Psychic Abilities, a program taught to adults and modified for young people. Donna began to add to her repertoire a range of smaller half day courses such as Meet Your Guide, Séance Circles, Meet Your Loved Ones, Discover Your Past Lives and Aura Reading & Energy Manipulation. One of her favorite programs to teach was the two-day Crystal & Stone Workshop.

Donna has never regretted the changes that Spirit brought to her life. Working for Spirit brings nothing but love with it. She calls it "touching heaven". She says you can feel the joy and love and oneness that come with communication with 'the other side'. It is Donna's way to work for Spirit and the Glory of what we call God.
